Recognizing Agricultural and Resource Economics’ achievements, growth, and innovation.

Roger von Haefen

has accepted an additional role as co-editor of the Journal for Environmental Economics and Management (JEEM) starting January 1, 2014.

Melissa Hendrickson

will be a December graduate of the Accomplishment in Teaching Certificate Program offered through the Graduate School. The Certificate of Accomplishment in Teaching (CoAT) program provides a mechanism to demonstrate commitment to teaching excellence through training, evaluation, and recognition. Through critical reflection and application, participants learn the fundamental components of pedagogy, enriching their personal growth and professional development in teaching and learning.

Congratulations Boris Zhukov on successfully defending his dissertation on November 18th!

You will see a new face in our department starting this January...please give Zachary Brown a big welcome as he joins our faculty! His office will be 4310 and his email is: zsbrown2@ncsu.edu.

Welcome Zack!!

Thank you to everyone who attended and contributed to the department potluck on December 6th. We look forward to the next one!
Ted Feitshans and Brandon King continued to provide Extension leadership to county and municipal Voluntary Agricultural District (VAD) program boards and farmland protection planning efforts throughout North Carolina.

Dr. Feitshans concluded his work with the Compulsory Pooling Study Group when it concluded its work with the publication of its final report. That report may be found on the DENR Shale Gas page at: http://portal.ncdenr.org/web/guest/shale-gas

Ted Feitshans, Guido van der Hoeven, and Mark Megalos, Extension Forestry, attended and presented at the annual meeting of North Carolina Chapter of the Association of Consulting Foresters of America, Inc. August 21-23

Kelly Zering, Tom Vukina, Rod Rejesus and Ed Kick presented at the Fulbright Scholars’ “Networking Night” on November 5, 2013 involving the three day Food Security workshop.

⇒ Upcoming TREE Seminars:

- January 16, 2014 – Eli Fenichel, (Yale University)- Bldg O9, Classroom 137
- February 13, 2014 – Rob Johnston, (Clark University)- Cox Multipurpose Room
- March 6, 2014 – Catherine Kling (Iowa State University)- Bldg O9, Classroom 137
- March 27, 2014 – Andrew Yates (UNC Chapel Hill)- Bldg O9, Classroom 137
- April 10, 2014– Jennifer Alix-Garcia (U. of Wisconsin-Madison)- Cox Multipurpose Room

All seminars will be at 3:15 on RTI campus http://www.ncsu.edu/cenrep/workshops/TREE/

⇒ Keep a lookout for CEnREP Colloquia Workshops! The CEnREP bi-monthly Luncheon Colloquium provides faculty and students with interests in environmental and resource economics an informal, ongoing forum.

All colloquia are held from 12-1 pm on Fridays. http://www.ncsu.edu/cenrep/workshops/colloquia.php

⇒ Ted Feitshans and Brandon King continued to provide Extension leadership to county and municipal Voluntary Agricultural District (VAD) program boards and farmland protection planning efforts throughout North Carolina.

---

The greatest leader is not necessarily the one who does the greatest things.

He is the one that gets the people to do the greatest things.

- Ronald Reagan
Cloud Storage

Cloud storage has been released for individual/group use (see previous email sent to department faculty/staff for more information)

Email arehelp@ncsu.edu if further information is needed.

Department Server

Folders are available (M: drives) on the ARE server for personal use (same concert used with our previous server)

An “AREShared” folder is being mapped for all faculty/staff. Folder is accessible to all for any purpose. We may also use the folder to place files in for faculty/staff access.

Christmas Break Information

Please power down all equipment that will not be used over the holiday break. Those who are planning to remotely access their PC should leave the computer (only) on.

IMPORTANT

ARE-IT will be unavailable much of the holiday break. Scott will attempt to answer any help requests (remotely) as time permits.